"NG 2805 4483 Erd House."(1)

"There is an earth-house on Vatten Farm, having its entrance in the face of a precipitous bank, over-hanging a deep ravine. A passage about 3ft(0.91m) in height and near the same in breadth, roofed by stones laid on as lintels, leads inwards to the distance of 60ft(18.4m) or 70ft(21.44m), when it opens into what appears to have been a central chamber of considerable extent, arched over with stone, and from 4ft to 5ft(1.21m to 1.52m) in height. Off this room several narrow galleries branch in various ascertained."(2)

"The site of this earth-house lies barely 200yds(183.0m) NE of Rosgill School, on the steep left bank of the Rosgill River. The entrance passage ran under the surface of the ground at right angles to the burn but no trace of the building is now to be seen."(OSFI:CFW:4.11.1960) (3)

"There are no visible remains of the earth-house. The site of the entrance was pointed out and takes the form of a shallow depression in the bank of the burn which if extended would coincide with a stone-filled depression in the NE side of an old enclosure which may be part of the collapsed passage."(OSFI:CFW:15.5.1961)
