Kinbeachie

Castle was demolished by father of present farm ('Kinbeachie') occupant who is still living in the area and working on the farm.

Field was ploughed and no visible standing remains are present, however approximate location of tower can be seen as a small mound - this was verified by the farmer. Also present in the unploughed, but overgrown and cattle trodden NW corner of the field are the remains of NH 66 SW 013 a de-population site adjacent to the mound.
