"Before 1928 the remains of a 5th c. bronze hanging-bowl were recovered from a kitchen-mi-at Castle Tioram. Now in the West Highland Museum" (1) "About 8.0m NW of the N gable of the castle is a cleft in the rock which has almost certa been used as a midden for the castle, otherwise no further information regarding the find of the hanging bowl which is still in the West Highland Museum." (OSFI:RL:3.6.1970)
